The image shows the old version of the tax payment form. It features a large grid for entering tax amounts. A red box highlights the '000' in the '000' column, and another red box highlights the '110' in the '110' column. A third red box highlights the '本税' (Main Tax) section, which is currently grid-patterned. The form includes fields for '国庫金' (National Treasury), '納期等の区分' (Payment period classification), and '合計額' (Total amount).

The image shows the new version of the tax payment form. The grid is simplified, and the '本税' (Main Tax) section is no longer grid-patterned. The '000' and '110' columns are still present. The form includes fields for '国庫金' (National Treasury), '納期等の区分' (Payment period classification), and '合計額' (Total amount).
